Dear Colin,

First of all, I apologize for the very late feedback. My journey with you and your excellent staff with the filling of the assessment form. From the very beginning I was well informed by your staff Mayada Jamil with all the options/requirements I had to migrate to any province in Canada and how it had to be approached. Clarity of information provided, helped me decide with complete confidence to opt your service. Later, I was aided by Andrea with precise information as the process progressed. Further later, Samantha helped me with the list of employers in Quebec which helped in the selection process as well as providing me info with job search options. Further to this, Ghada Jamil played a terrific role in carrying me through the process and helping me finally obtain my PR. She replied with patience to all my emails and phone conversations. She provided valuable insight at different times to improve my chances. She offered reasonable assurance when my spirits were low apparent in any PR applicant.

I am very thankful and grateful the service provided to me. I would highly recommend yourself and your team to anyone with complete confidence and incase any need arises for me in the future, I will be returning back to you with absolute confidence and conviction that the job will be done. Best Regards, Srikanth

I have started looking for a on-line service that would help me to successfully obtain a worker Canadian Visa back in 2009. The description of the service offered by lawyer C. Singer immediately caught my eye. The professionalism was immediately confirmed after a few interactions we had to let me understand the details. Colin Singer offered me a guarantee that I would obtain the Visa or my money back. It took some time, mainly because of the backlog to be worked off by the Canadian Visa Office. Moreover having worked abroad I had to request and provide police clearance statements for every country I had worked in, which took months in some cases. But eventually the wait paid back and at the beginning of 2013 I received my CoPR, the confirmation of Permanent Residence from the Canadian Visa Office.

Happily, with this document in my hands I have entered Canada on March 20th 2013. Thank you Colin, for helping me reaching my dream of starting a new life in Toronto. I heartily recommend the services of lawyer Colin Singer and I am pretty sure I will keep taking advantage of Colin's services in the future.

Thank you for your help.

Kind Regards,,,

I came across the CCIRC web site when I was considering several different immigration programs in July 2010. I filled out the evaluation forms on a few Canadian immigration advisor companies' web sites, but got positive feedback only from CCIRC.

Unlike others, they suggested me to consider the Quebec skilled workers program. After reading about the program I thought that it can be a very good option for me, so, I decided to apply for it with the help of CCIRC.

The price for CCIRC assistance services was moderate and was divided into 4 installments. Moreover, the company is located in Montreal, Quebec, which gave me an additional confidence that they are familiar with this program very well.

As soon as our cooperation began, CCIRC provided me with the clear and precise information regarding the documents I should prepare and the level of French and English I should confirm. They helped me to prepare well for the selection interview, answered a lot of my questions and clarified a lot of my doubts during the whole immigration process.

Though the immigration process took me 2.5 years instead of expected 1.5, this was mainly related to the constantly growing number of people applying for the Quebec skilled workers program at the time.

Thus, I can confidently say that I'm satisfied with the service provided by CCIRC. It's worth the money paid.
